SURE DEATH
—TO—
Insects of all Kinds,
Is the result of the use of
Dalmatian Insect Powder,
which is SAFE to use and HARMLESS to human life. A few puffs of the dust blown into the air of a room with the doors closed, directed towards those parts where flies are congregated, will stupify and kill them in a very short time. Our constantly increasing sales convinces us that a single trial according to directions will establish this fact.

RUNNING SORES.
Interesting Account of the Healing of a Broken Leg.
Messrs LOTHROPS & PINKHAM Druggists Dear Sirs—On the 23d of August, 1877 I had the misfortune of having my leg broken, in front of William Stearns' dry goods store, by a case of goods being thrown on me The bone was set by a physician of this place. Upon removing the splints, sores broke out from my knee to the heel and several physicians called it varicose veins and ordered me to wear rubber stockings After wearing out about $25 worth of different makes without any signs of any cure, I bought the CUTICURA REMEDIES for the purpose, as I expressed it at the time, to be humbugged again Before half had been used I was astonished to see the sores heal up one by one, and now not one sore is to be seen. I recommended the same to a neighboring lady who had been troubled for years with a sore wrist. After using hundreds of remedies she is completely cured Respectfully yours,
Dover, N H HENRY LANDECKER

A USEFUL PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

BY REV GEO H BALL, D D

James A Garfield is just now a spectacle and an inspiration to every young man in the nation It is most fortunate that the salient features of his life and character are all helpful elevating, ennobling Elections are educational No one element in American life is more so Candidates for high office become ideals types to be copied, examples which profoundly impress our most talented and ambitious youth. The climax of worldly success is an election to the Presidency of this great nation No honor among men surpasses this The characteristics of the man who wins, are accepted as conditions of success and hence to be cherished and cultivated The influence for good or evil is immense Close inspection of Mr Garfield s career adds force to manly impulses and inspires to noble endeavor The value of this fact can not be over estimated

My first acquaintance with him was in 1849 when he was a youth of seventeen In May 1847, I took the pastorate of the Free Baptist church at Chester Ohio, and became assistant teacher in Geauga seminary, located at that place, and then under the superintency of Rev. Daniel Branch and wife S D Bates now a worthy Free Baptist minister, and President of Ridgeville college Ind, entered the Seminary as a student the ensuing fall In the winter of 1848 9 he taught a district school in the adjoining township of Orange, where the Garfield family resided James had returned from his toil on the canal sick with chills and fever, unable either to work or study with much vigor Mr Bates found several young men in the district about Garfield s age who had gone through arithmetic but really knew little of its principles, and he induced them to form a class and meet an hour before school for drill This was extra and gratuitous work for Bates but he was eager to do good and delighted in the effort Young Garfield was induced to join the class, and soon became so enthusiastic that his arithmetic became his meat and drink between his shakes and fever Thus passed the winter

In the spring James intended to engage as a sailor on the Lake, but Mr Bates had become impressed with his rare ability and urged him to turn his attention to study The purpose to become a sailor was firmly held and the appeals of the teacher for some time had little effect But his health was not firm and Mr Bates urged that the hardships of the Lake would be too severe for him that he might better attend school one term improve his learning and recruit his health and then go on the Lake in the fall His mother vigorously endorsed this plan and it was finally adopted He decided to accompany his teacher to Geauga seminary His mother fitted him out with facilities to board himself, and his cousin and another young friend, about the same age joined him in the new departure Mr Bates introduced him to the faculty with this suggestive remark, He is decidedly smart though rather green and awkward He was tall, sallow, emaciated, and awkward, but eager to learn sober and wakeful I saw little of him in his classes that term but heard good reports from the teachers to whom he recited He made the grammar class especially lively Chapin's grammar was in use which called prepositions and conjunctions verbs and upset all the notions of Kirkham and Brown Young Garfield thought it quite lawful to upset Chapin in return and Miss Abigail Curtis, his teacher though skillful and resolute, found it impossible to defend her author, and frequently expressed a wish that his book was in ashes At the close of the term he took part in the rhetorical exercises with credit

His health was now improved, and he again turned his face to the Lake. His faithful friend anticipated the danger and plied him with new arguments He urged that another term would fit him to teach a district school that he would learn but little on the Lake that season any way, that navigation would close in three months and then he might be idle all the fall and winter, that if he was once qualified to teach he could sail summers and teach winters and thus have constant employment The effort was successful the pledge was made to return to school again in the fall The delight of Mr Bates made his black eyes fairly dance with joy

I saw more of him during the fall term as I had full charge of the school, Mr and Mrs Branch having retired on account of failing health He was in my advanced arithmetic class and I recollect that he was accustomed not only to master the lesson but explore outside of his text book and enrich his recitations by quotations references and suggestions bearing upon the problems in hand This was characteristic of him in all his studies and it has been a habit with him ever since At that early day the opinion was often expressed that he would distinguish himself as a scholar and orator if once cured of the passion for sailing His friend Bates watched the point of danger with vigilance till another and better passion expelled the thought from his mind

The ensuing winter he taught the school in the "Ledge district" not far from the seminary, and succeeded admirably In the spring he resumed his studies During the winter he had professed religion and united with the Disciples, and now cherished no desire other than to complete his education and to devote his life to usefulness. It was the next fall, I think, that he went to Hiram Institute which the Disciples had just opened and where he remained until able to enter the Junior year in college

I kept watch of him from that time onward, but did not meet him for more than a dozen years In 1863, I think it was, while on my way to Washington, we met again I was going from the Northern Central depot to the Calvert St depot in Baltimore, just in advance of several army officers and turned to inquire my way A stout, full bearded General led the company, and I inquired of him Instead of answering he grasped me by both shoulders and looking me eagerly in the face exclaimed, "George H Ball! Is this you! God bless you I am glad to see you Don t you know me? Don t you recollect James A Garfield?" I need not speak of my delight, of the invitation to breakfast with the General, and our fraternal visit It was such as only a great hearted, noble man like Garfield could afford, and I refer to the occurrence to illustrate the warmth of his nature, the simplicity of his manners, and sincerity of his friendship There is not a particle of gilding, aristocracy or sham about him His great talents, acquirements and honors did not separate him from common people, nor chill the ardor of his friendship in the least

Another incident which came to my knowledge some time since illustrates the same trait of character Years had passed since he had met his early friend, S D Bates Being in Washington, and hearing that Gen Garfield was there attending a court martial, Mr. Bates called, thinking to listen to the trial and see his friend It chanced that Gen. Garfield responded, to the bell. At first he did not recognize the visitor, but on mention of his name, he flung his long arms around him with much emotion and followed his greeting by interrupting the court to introduce him, saying, "Gentlemen, let me introduce to you the man who did more to make me what I am, than all other men on earth, my early teacher, Rev S D Bates" Gold buttons and shoulderstraps made no difference with his feelings of friendship, nor the frank expression of them Such is the generous nature of the man this great nation delights to honor

I would like to speak of his great talents which the great men of the nation recognize, the purity of his daily life, his severe honesty which has kept him poor while other public men have grown rich, of his wonderful industry and tenacious memory which has made him a thesaurus of wisdom, of his broad statesmanship, which has made him a recognized leader in all the important measures that have agitated the country for many years, of his foresight and bravery which led him to stem the tide of wild fanaticism on financial issues when strong men wavered, but I must close I rejoice over his nomination and prospective election most of all because his example will elevate the thoughts and purposes of the millions of young men in the land and greatly advance the cause of political and social morality

EAST DIXMONT, Tuesday evening, August 17, at 7 o'clock

The article on our first page, in reference to Gen. Garfield, was written for the Morning Star, by Rev. Dr Geo H. Ball. It gives the reader a refreshing insight into the character and early life of the next President. From whatever side it is viewed, the character of Garfield is one that parents delight in holding up for imitation to their children.

The announcement is made elsewhere of the railroad arrangements for the grand Republican Mass Meeting at Lincoln, on Tuesday afternoon. The several campaign clubs in this city have been invited, and will undoubtedly decide at their meeting to-night in favor of going. The fare has been placed at the low price of one dollar for the round trip. The speakers for the occasion are Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, Hon. Wm. P. Frye, and Capt. Boutelle.

Messrs. Howard and Miller spoke at Simpson Corner and East Dixmont, on Tuesday the 17th, and not on the 24th, as heretofore announced.

LADD'S FRANTIC STRADDLE.
[From the Honest Truth.]

The champion straddler is plainly Geo Washington Ladd, who is crawling in the mire to solicit votes from his outraged constituents in the Fourth Congressional District. He spoke in two conventions the other day, Democratic and Greenback, and in both he said "we have formed a coalition with" the others, and spoke of "us" as inviting the others to unite against the common enemy, the Republican party. Let us examine some of "our principles" which Ladd so nicely straddles.

First, he endorsed the Democratic platform, "revenue tariff" and all, and by implication supported Hancock. Next he went to the Greenbackers and told them that they were all right, hinting also that Weaver was the man of all others for President.

Now the difference between the Democrats and Greenbackers is radical in several points. The Democrats are for a revenue tariff, which discriminates against home industry, the Greenbackers profess to be for a tariff with incidental protection. Ladd told the Greenbackers he proposed to do all he could for the laboring classes. How? By voting with the Democrats in Congress, as he always has, to destroy the protective qualities of the tariff, and leave the Maine farmers and artisans to the tender mercies of foreign competition.

The Democrats are opposed to all federal supervision of elections, and in favor of striking down all safeguards to an honest ballot. General Weaver and his friends stand with the Republicans in favor of such laws as will protect every citizen in his rights, in favor of free elections and honest counting of the vote.

General Weaver and other Greenback members of Congress have voted to preserve the federal election laws, and to pay the marshals and supervisors of elections for services rendered at the polls. George W. Ladd has voted against every proposition to enforce justice and equity in the elective franchise, and to-day the Greenback ticket in Alabama lies prostrate at the feet of a Bourbon minority, because those laws are outraged and set at naught by the Bourbon Democrats.

Can the agile Ladd straddle issues as widely apart as these? Can he make his constituents believe that free trade and protection will both be safely guarded while he is in Congress? Can he satisfy his industrial friends that their welfare is ensured while he is laboring to promote the destructive policy of Southern free traders? Can he satisfy the friends of James B. Weaver that their party interests are subserved by voting down supplies for federal officials, and destroying the safeguards to an honest election? Will the election of Ladd and an electoral ticket in Maine, which is sure to sell out to the Bourbons, recompense the Weaver men for the stealth by the Democrats of many electoral votes in the South which honestly belong to them?

The people of the Fourth District are asking these questions, and Mr. Ladd will find that, although he can straddle all sorts of chasms in political economy, and jump great mountains of imaginable fact, he never can reach Congress again by any such system of ground and lofty tumbling.

SOBBINGS FROM SOLON

The following extracts are from Solon Chase's last Enquirer

The old Bourbons have visions of Hancock and glory—that is a pull at the public teat, and they have agreed with a few trading Greenbackers to divide the custom houses and post offices. That is the end and beginning of fusion in Maine. If that nest of eggs does hatch out it will be a nondescript brood.

This is a grain of wheat in a bushel of chaff. The nomination for an office which he can't hold has toned Solon down.

The renewed energy of the Democratic party is but the spasmodic effort that presages death. From this national struggle it will fall back a defeated, discordant and hopeless minority. The hope of federal patronage gone its local supremacy can not long be maintained. This is to be desired, for the way to currency reform lies across the grave of the Democratic party. To enter its ranks is to take its name. To take its name is to assume the vindictiveness of its evil past.—E. H. Gove.

No comments

The attempt to make Fusion stick to the rank and file of the Greenback party, has somewhat cooled the ardor of many of our true friends, while the action of our State committee in handling the Fusion question has made the hearts of others sick and faint.

The action of the Garcelon thieves has cooled the ardor of the honest ones, the magnificent canvass of the Republicans has sickened the balance, and faint will be no word to express the feelings of the whole drive in September.

As a sample of Democratic financiering let it never be forgotten that the loan of $18,415,000, ordered by the last Democratic Congress under James Buchanan, February 8, 1861, sold in the market at a loss of $2,019,776 10, and this, too, at a time of profound peace. This loan was made by that infamous administration, rather than increase the taxation to pay the bills. That debt falls due January 1, 1881, and thanks to a Republican management of the finances, there will be money enough in the treasury to pay it. Another act passed December 17, 1860, put $10,001,900 treasury notes on the market and they brought 88 cents on the dollar or 12 per cent discount. These have all been redeemed at par. So it is easy to see what sort of skill the country will have to manage its finances if it allows the Burbons to elect the next President.

Maine, it is useless to deny, is not going for Garfield and Arthur as it went for the immortal Governor Kent. But it is going for them strong enough, and this because Mr. Blaine is not going to oblige the Democratic prophets by sulking in his tent. He can carry Maine, and he will. His vigorous, ringing speech in Bath, shows how he proposes to do it. The Fusionists are repeating their record of last year. They are holding hole and corner consultations, making secret and disreputable bargains, and conducting their whole campaign after the manner of the desperate conspirators which last year showed them to be. Senator Blaine at the head of the Republican host will meet these underground and sinister tactics with hard, straight-from-the-shoulder, open, free and above board, hand-to-hand fighting that will be carried from school district to school district, until every citizen capable of distinguishing right from wrong, truth from falsehood, will be reached, convinced, and his ballot secured for the Republican ticket.—Boston Traveller.

It is announced that the southern cotton planters will have another good crop wherewith to fill their storehouses this season. Their good fortune in this respect is perennial. For some years past each successive crop has been larger than the last. Yet though the planter commands a profitable market for all he produces, the south never has anything. It alleges extreme poverty as a reason for the non-payment of its legally contracted debts. It has yet to learn that even from a sordid point of view honesty is the best policy.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN THE COUNT-OUT.

HOW IT BECAME NECESSARY TO CHANGE THE NAME OF A FUSIONIST TO COUNT HIM IN.

FRAUD MOST GLARING.

Henry G. Walker

The above is a fac simile of the name of the Fusion candidate for commissioner in Oxford County last fall as it now appears on the return from the town of Hebron. It is evident that the middle initial of Mr Walker's name has been changed from a C to a G. The alteration is so clumsily made that it is obvious to the most casual inspection. The question arises therefore who made the change? Was the alteration made before the return reached Augusta, or was it made subsequently? And in determining this point let us look first at the return itself. In the original return it can be plainly seen that the line which is added to the C to form the G is in different colored ink. Of course it is impossible to make this difference apparent in newspaper printing, but it is plain enough in the original return. Had the change been made by the clerk or the selectmen, would such have been the case? Certainly not, for the return was sealed up in open town meeting and of course had any alteration been made it would have been made in the same ink in which the return was made. Selectmen's desks in town meetings are not furnished with several different shades of ink. This one fact alone would be conclusive proof that the change was not made by the clerk or anybody else who had the right to make it. But this fact does not stand alone. There is conclusive and unimpeachable testimony from a person who saw the return soon after it was opened by the Tabulators that it was then a clear and distinct C with no part of the line which is now attached to it. That testimony comes from the Hon E C Farrington of Fryeburg. When before the Hale Committee in answer to questions he testified as follows

Q When you examined the return—examining the name of Henry G Walker—calling your attention particularly to that—at that time how did you find it written?

A I found it written "Henry C. Walker." By Mr Ingalls

Q December 8th?

A Yes, the evening of December 8th

By Mr Strout

Q Did you make a memorandum at the time?

A Yes

Q And you know the party perfectly?

A Yes

Q How do you find that written now?

A "Henry G. Walker," it would be called, I should think

Q Has or has not the "C" been changed to a "G" by adding a line to it?

A It has

Q Whether or not you find the original "C" still upon the paper, so it can be clearly seen and identified without the aid of a glass

A It looks so to me

Q How was it changed?

A I should suppose it was changed by making an additional pen mark down

Q Does it or not appear upon its face clearly?

A It does

Q Whether or not you communicated this fact (of the error in the middle initial) to any person or to the "Oxford Democrat"?

A I sent it to the Oxford Democrat

Q Read to the committee the article in that paper which refers to the name of Henry C. Walker?

A. "The town of Hebron gives Henry C. Walker, candidate for commissioner 72 votes, instead of Henry G. Walker.

Q I understand you to say you called the attention of John B. Foster, one of the council, to the condition of that return at that time?

A I did

Q Did you make any remark about it that you remember?

A He asked me whether it was the Republican or Fusion candidate, saying that he had not examined the returns and did not know the parties

Q Did you tell him?

A I told him that it was for the Fusion candidate—that he was the Fusion candidate.

Q. So that fact was understood after that by him?

A. I told him.

By Mr Ingalls

Q Did you call the attention of any other member of the council to the "C" in that name?

A I do not think I did.

Q Where was this?

A In the Council Room

Q Any others of the council present?

A There were two or three. I think that Mr Brown was present and I think Mr Monroe was present. They were not doing any business; it was not a session of the council, but there were two or three councillors beside from Foster, I do not know but what Mr Chase was in the Council Room a part of the time.

Q Were they within hearing, and listening to your conversation?

A I do not know that they were. Mr Foster and I sat down at the council table, and he got these returns and sat down by me and we examined them together, he passing them to me.

There can be no escape from this testimony. Mr Farrington went to Augusta December 8, long before anybody suspected that the Council would resort to forgery to count out the Republicans. At that time everybody supposed that the Council meditated nothing worse than the taking advantage of technical defects. It had been rumored that there were many technical defects in returns from Republican towns. Mr Farrington went to Augusta to make a thorough examination of the returns from Oxford County. He was allowed to see the returns for county officers and discovered several defects in Fusion towns, among them that the returns from Hebron gave the name of the Fusion candidate for Commissioner as Henry C Walker instead of Henry G Walker. He made a note of this error, sent it to the Oxford Democrat and called it to the attention of Tabulator John B. Foster. At that time certainly Mr. Farrington had no motive to state anything but the fact.

He stated it publicly too, so that if it had not been true, A. S. Kimball or any one of the other Fusionists who had the free run of the Council Chamber could have contradicted it and doubtless would have done so if they could. No contradiction was ever made, however. But when the council's tabulations were examined it was found that Hebron was tabulated for Henry G. Walker. An inspection of the return was then made and it was found that the C had been changed to a G. The return must have been changed somtime between the date at which Mr. Farrington saw it and the time when the tabulations were made. Who made that change? Certainly not Republicans? It is absurd to suppose they would resort to forgery to enable the Council to count in a Fusionist. Then who did make it? But one answer can be given. The men who had a motive for having it changed were the only men who could have changed it. These men were the Governor and his Council or men in their confidence. They changed the C to a G that the vote of Hebron might not be lost to the Fusionists. They committed forgery to help the count-out which they resolved upon the moment they learned that the people had declared against their party at the polls.

When the men on whom suspicion was cast by this transaction were asked to explain it some of them ran away to Massachusetts and others staid at home and kept silent. Only one of them—Gov Garcelon—took advantage of the opportunity given them to clear their skirts of the crime of forgery. He appeared before the Hale Committee and when the return was shown him frankly confessed that the return had been altered and that if Mr Farrington's testimony were true the alteration was a gross violation of right. He cleared his own skirts by swearing that he knew nothing about it.

The criminals? The men who conceived and attempted to execute this daring theft are now leading in the Democratic and Fusion ranks. It is incredible that a party that deliberately sought to overturn the emphatically expressed will of the people should be again intrusted with power. The crime of Garcelon and his gang were monstrous. They were the crimes of the party behind these men, the party which is now straining every nerve to elect Plaisted. It is well that the infamous conspiracy of the Garcelon gang is brought again to men's minds. It was a piece of Democratic work, worthy of the party, and very generally indorsed by the party. It is not possible that voters have ceased to take any interest in a political crime so black as this was.

WHAT A SOLDIER SAYS OF HANCOCK

Jerry Ward, a printer, who runs a job office at Kansas City was a soldier of an Ohio regiment in Hancock's army corps, was recently interviewed by a reporter. He talked freely and the following portion of the conversation was noted down and printed.

"You fought under Hancock I believe, Mr Ward?"

"Yes, I was a soldier in the Fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, in the First Brigade, Third Division of the Second Army Corps."

"Have you any objection to stating what the soldiers thought of Hancock?"

"I have none in the least. Hancock was always considered a good general, and though I cannot recall anything particularly brilliant that he ever did. Personally he was much disliked by all of his men."

"What was the cause of it?"

"He was disliked and hated because he held his men as worse than dogs. He had no feeling for a private soldier, and the men knew it."

"Can you recall any particular occasion when he expressed himself openly?"

"Yes, indeed. Here is one sentence I heard him say one day which I will never forget. It was right after the second battle of Bull Run. Lee had flanked us, and after retreating we were advanced again. The affair which I am about to relate occurred between Manassas Junction and Warrenton. The Fourth Ohio was marching left in front as we came to a creek. A halt was called, and the command ing officer of the engineers' corps suggested to Hancock that a pontoon bridge had better be thrown across. Hancock was standing but a few feet from me when the conversation took place, and I heard every word of it. Hancock replied 'No. Let the ———— wade through, it won't hurt them.' I never forgot that, and the whole corps never forgot it, nor will they forget this next November. The entire army of over 30,000 men had to wade the creek, which was waist-deep. It would have taken but twenty minutes to throw a pontoon bridge across the stream, and every man could have passed dry-shod. After crossing the stream the men were obliged to walk through deep sand for a mile. The sand worked down into their shoes, and nine out of ten men went lame from raw feet, the skin being worn off in patches by the wet sand. The wading of the stream would not have caused a murmur but for the brutal conduct of Hancock in applying the foul and unsoldierly epithet to his men. I tell you the Fourth Ohio boys carried the words to the second army corps, and they have treasured the words like I have. I wouldn't vote for him for dog catcher."

The Commercial does not attempt to answer the formidable array of facts and figures presented in yesterday's WHIG, concerning county finances. No answer can be made. The saving made was by Republican officials, and the Fusionist had nothing whatever to do with it.

The Manchester Union refers to the whilom Republican leader of the Fusion conspirators in Maine as "that gallant soldier, true patriot, and honest man, Gen. Harris M. Plaisted." This is said of a man who never voted with the Democratic party, but opposed it with all his might until last year, when he failed to get the Republican nomination for Governor. As a Congressman, voting always with the radical wing of the Republican party, he was an object of contumely in the eyes of the Union but now that an insatiable greed for office has caused him to accept a nomination at the hands of the cutthroats who run the Fusion machine in that State, he is suddenly transformed into a "gallant soldier, true patriot, and honest man." Bah! Even Plaisted must despise such sycophancy.—Concord Monitor.

The census returns are coming in quite freely from the Southern States, and the remarkable and unexpected heavy gains over the last census occasion very general surprise in official quarters. In some sections of the South, where it was clear that the population had fallen off, the returns show an increase from thirty to fifty per cent. The opinion is quite freely expressed that heavy frauds have been perpetrated for political purposes. There is serious talk of ordering the census taken over again in some sections of the South. Gen Walker of course will say nothing nor express any opinion until the complete returns are in. The President is quoted as saying that he does not believe the census has been correctly taken in some of the Southern States.

NEWS AND MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The fight against American meat continues in England. The question is simply, can England supply its own meat?

Dr. Parsons, the American missionary whose murder in Turkey is announced by cable, has been a missionary in that country for over thirty years, and was distinguished for his ability and zeal. This is the second death in his family due to the courage of the Christian pioneer. Dr Parsons's youngest daughter married Rev Albert Whiting of Saratoga N. Y., and the went to China as missionaries. In the spring of 1878, during the terrible famine which then prevailed, Mr Whiting volunteered to go as an aid in distributing the food furnished by foreigners to the famine stricken Chinese, and soon came to his death from "famine fever," brought on by exposure and overwork. Dr Parsons's wife returned to this country in company with her widowed daughter two years ago, and is now living in a New York town.

There is good demand for coal, and the companies who are working their mines at only half time find that the supply is not much beyond the actual requirements. The reason for this is said to be the improvement in the iron trade and the number of rolling mills that have gone into blast. The Pennsylvania Coal Company is now selling to contractors only, having refused of late to fill any more orders for outside parties until more of the mines are working on full time. They have advanced prices for stove and lump grades ten cents a ton, and it is intimated that another increase is not at all unlikely before long.

A new liver pad is advertised, which cures by "inspiration." An inspired liver pad must be a cheerful thing to have in the house.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

In speaking of the Republican meeting in Abbot the Piscataquis Observer says "The Republicans express great satisfaction with the speakers and the meeting, and Abbot may be relied on for a good support in September."

We would inform the Bangor Commercial that it will not secure the independent vote of Maine for the Fusion combination by speaking of the President of Bowdoin College as "Traitor Chamberlain.—Boston Journal.

The Belfast Journal says. The accession of Harvey D Hadlock, Esq, of Bucksport to the Republican side in the present contest is an important one. Mr Hadlock ranks high among the legal fraternity of Maine, and is a gentleman of high standing in every respect. His influence will be felt in the way of placing on the right track many who are disgusted with the twaddle and double dealing of the Greenback and Democratic hermophrodites who now run the opposition to the Republicans.

The Boston Post has advertised for a very large stock of cars. It calls for those of every Democrat in Maine who will not vote for Plaisted.

The Republican gatherings at Liberty on Tuesday afternoon, and at Searsmont the same evening, were very large. At Liberty, T. R. Simonton spoke, followed by Milliken and Updegraff. At the Searsmont evening meeting, the hall was dense ly crowded by an interested audience. Milliken spoke an hour, and Updegraff an hour and a half, with most telling speeches. The Liberty Band gave excellent music at both places.

We have the pleasure to announce that Gov. Davis will speak at the Livermore camp-grounds, on Wednesday, August 18th, and at Old Orchard, on Thursday, Aug 19th.

Hon. James G. Blaine and Hon. Clark E. Carr, of Illinois, will speak at Fairfield, Monday evening, the 16th inst. Mr. Carr is one of the best stump speakers in the country and it will be a rousing meeting.

Hon. Geo. Cutler will leave this morning for Aroostook county, where he has engagements lasting a week. He will then return and engage in the campaign in Penobscot and Piscataquis counties.

DELIBERATE AND WILFUL CONSPIRACY

After mentioning two or three cases of the conspiracy to steal the State, the New York Times says it was a deliberate and wilful conspiracy in which Garcelon and his associates were engaged. Innumerable instances conclusively proving the criminal intent of these men might be cited. It is too late to make any argument as to the wickedness of this conspiracy. The court of last resort, in every case, has decided against the legality of the election certificates issued by Garcelon, when such certificates were granted on the "amended returns." Yet, a prominent Democrat, being asked if the published details of the Garcelon scheme would not affect the election this year, replied in the negative, adding that "the people of Maine did not care anything about that business one way or another." This is an amusing statement. Is it possible that the voters of Maine, after looking upon one of the most dastardly political crimes ever committed, are now indifferent as to what becomes of

SHOCKING OUTRAGE.

A Little Girl of Fifteen Assaulted by a Tramp.

Lynch Law Invoked.

BOSTON, Aug. 13. A special despatch to the Journal from Bridgton, Maine, says that Bridgton is in a fever of excitement over an outrageous attack made yesterday afternoon on a 15-years old daughter of William Quincy, who resides a mile from Bridgton Centre. A travelling umbrella mender called at Quincy's house, when all were absent but the girl. On ascertaining the state of things he entered the house, closed and locked the doors and windows, and severely injured the unprotected girl. So violent was her resistance that she succeeded in breaking a chair over the villain, the criminal took to the woods, and immediately after the victim was discovered and search instituted for the man. Organized bodies aggregating fifty men, were at work in the search during last night, but this morning the rascal had not been found. He is probably concealed in the woods, and his ultimate capture is regarded certain. Lynch law is freely talked of. The girl is a precarious condition.

FIRST REPUBLICAN MEETING AT AUGUSTA.

Large Crowd and Great Enthusiasm

SPEECHES BY SENATORS LOGAN AND BLAINE.

AUGUSTA, Aug. 13. The first Republican meeting of the campaign in Augusta took place this evening, at Granite Hall. The meeting was very large, the hall being filled to its utmost capacity and hundreds going away unable to find accommodations within. Herbert M. Heath, Esq., called the meeting to order and presented Dr. Geo. E. Brickett, as the President of the evening, who proceeded to introduce Hon. John A. Logan, of Illinois, as the first speaker. For an hour and a half Gen. Logan discussed the histories and features of the Republican and Democratic parties, in a powerful and convincing manner. He was followed by Hon. Geo. W. Carter in brief but telling remarks. Senator Blaine made the closing speech, confining himself to State issues and speaking briefly on account of the late hour. He was received with ringing applause, and spoke with great vigor and effect. The meeting was one of the best in numbers and character ever held in the city. The President of the meeting was a gentleman who has been advertised as a Hancock convert.

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY AT CARIBOU.

Large and Most Enthusiastic Audience.

A Grand Speech by Mr. McKinley.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO DAILY WHIG.]

CARIBOU, Aug. 13. The Republican rally at Caribou, last night, was a grand success. The Davis club, with one hundred torches, headed by the Caribou Band, escorted the speaker, the Hon. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, to the Baptist church, which was filled to overflowing, and hundreds were unable to gain admittance. Mr. McKinley's speech was simply grand. For two hours he held the closest attention of one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences ever assembled in Aroostook county. A.

Drawers were pulled out, cupboards were open, partially tied bundles were strewn helter-skelter over the floor, and clothing was thrown into corners in heaps. The appearance indicated that the burglars had contemplated a wholesale robbery, but were frightened away before they had prepared the goods for removal. The only article Mr. Goss missed, was a clock, and he found the clock, Thursday, at a second-hand store.

A KIND ACT. The Aroostook Republican says: While on our way to Bangor, last week, our attention was called to a bright looking lad, with a card attached to his coat, upon which was written, "Conductors will please have this little orphan boy forwarded by regular train for Bath." The boy's name was Lewis D. Hatch and he was on his way to the orphan asylum in Bath. On asking him if he had any baggage or money, he said "he had plenty of money,—he had a quarter of a dollar," and he produced from his pocket, as his store of baggage, the picture of his father and mother and some letters. The sympathies of the passengers in the car were aroused, and a contribution amounting to four or five dollars was taken up and given to him. He was kindly cared for over night, in Bangor, and sent on his way the next morning.

The exercises at Fort Point will consist of a Battalion dress target shoot, drill, parade and band concert.

FOR THE LADIES. Almost any shape of wrap is fashionable. Garden parties bring out prettier dresses than balls. Handkerchief suits are now used for coaching dresses. Plush lined garments will replace the satin lined summer mantles. Plaid woollen stuffs will be used to trim the walking suits this winter. Feather fans are now flat and smooth, and are painted in bright colors. The day of short shoulder seams departs when the shirred waist comes in. All the waists made up for autumn dresses are heavily trimmed, and so are the sleeves. The summer costume of 1880 is more becoming than any which has been worn for years. The short white dresses, now fashionable, give the wearers an air of exquisite daintiness. Skirts finished with rows of machine stitching are to continue in fashion during the winter. Plain skirt and basques with draperies at the back seem to be the favorite model for autumn suits. Two sunflowers of saucer size and a handful of ferns make a pretty bouquet for a lady, according to Cape May ideas. Any pretty silk walking dress may be worn in the ball room, with the addition of a lace kerchief and a knot of flowers. Evening dresses of black and white illusion are embroidered in colors, the design matching the flowers worn at the belt. Shirred full waists will be worn with thick gowns during the winter, or else the dressmakers will throw away a great quantity of finished work, for they are making up all kinds of stuffs in that fashion now.

MASS MEETING. There will be a grand Republican mass meeting at Lincoln, Tuesday afternoon, to be addressed by Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, Hon. Wm. P. Frye and Capt. C. A. Boutelle. A special train will leave the E. & N. A. depot at half-past twelve, and return after the parade in the evening. Fare for the round trip one dollar.

A RAILROAD SQUABBLE. The Portland Press says: "There appears to be a little difficulty between the Eastern and Boston & Maine companies. As we understand the matter the City of Richmond lands and takes her passengers from the Eastern Railroad wharf and her cars run down to the wharf so that passengers can step from the boat aboard the cars. Now the Mt. Desert travel is very large and the Boston & Maine naturally desires to get its share of it. Therefore the hackmen were offered fifteen cents for each passenger they could induce to take the Boston & Maine train instead of the Eastern. The hackmen a week ago demanded twenty-five cents a head and the Boston & Maine acceded. Consequently the hackmen have been working like beavers for the Boston & Maine. Superintendent Sanborn we understand has forbidden the hackmen to solicit passengers on Eastern Railroad property. He does not dispute their right to do so on neutral ground, but the wharf is Eastern railroad property and he thinks it pretty cheeky for the Boston & Maine to come upon his stamping ground and take away his business."

THE MINNESOTA. The United States training ship Minnesota will soon arrive in Portland, with a view of enlisting boys. In order that boys who desire to enlist may get some idea of what is required of them we will say that first of all they must be between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years, and will serve until twenty-one years of age. They must be able to read and write, of robust frame, sound and hearty, and free from all physical defects. Upon application for enlistment, the applicant must be accompanied by his parent or legal guardian. The boy's education will consist of the elements of an ordinary education and practical seamanship. Boys who have been convicted of crime cannot be received. When enlisted they will receive $9 per month and one ration, and be subject to promotion with higher pay and ratings. They will receive a clothing outfit. Boys will be permitted to allot their pay to parents or guardians and will be allowed $1 monthly pocket money, and allowed shore leave at the discretion of the commanding officer. Those injured or contracting disease in the service will be entitled to draw a pension. The height and measure must be as follows: Age, fifteen years; height, 4 feet 11 inches; weight, 85 pounds; chest measurement—breathing naturally, 27½ inches. Age, sixteen years; height, 5 feet 1 inch; weight, 90 pounds; chest measurement—breathing naturally, 28 inches. Age, seventeen years; height, 5 feet 2 inches; weight, 100 pounds; chest measurement—breathing naturally, 29 inches. Age, eighteen years; height, 5 feet 3 inches; weight, 110 pounds; chest measurement—breathing naturally. 30 inches.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Flag-Raising at Medford Centre.

Mr. Editor: A flag-raising and grand Republican rally took place in this town last evening. The assemblage was called to order and briefly addressed by Hon. S. O. Dinsmore, and, as Old Glory was flung to the breeze, the air was rent with patriotic cheers. The assembly then repaired to the hall, which was not only filled to overflowing, but a large crowd unable to get into the building, remained about the windows outside. A window was removed and a platform erected, so that the speaker was enabled to address those outside as well as inside. A large crowd came from adjoining towns. B. L. Fowles, Esq., in a brief but pertinent speech introduced Paul R. Seavey, Esq., who proceeded to discuss State and National issues in a masterly manner. The address, which occupied more than two hours in its delivery, was replete with sharp hits, bristling with facts and full of well-fitting anecdotes. This was the largest and most enthusiastic political meeting ever held in this vicinity. A good Garfield and Arthur Club was recently organized, and our people are determined to rebuke fraud and villany at the coming election, in a manner that will leave no doubt as to our view of the State steal last fall.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Little Boy Fearfully Mangled by a Dog.

A young son of Mr. Henry Arnold, who resides on Fern street, was fearfully lacerated about the head and face yesterday afternoon by a vicious dog. The little fellow and his sister had ridden down a piece with their father, as he started for his business, and were almost home again, when they met this dog. The brute immediately attacked the boy without the least provocation, throwing him down and biting him about the head and face in a shocking manner.

Some of the neighbors saw him and one man hastened to the assistance of the boy, when the dog turned on him, but a well directed kick caused him to start and run. The child was then taken into the house and a physician sent for who administered ether and then dressed his injuries, making the little sufferer as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances.

The dog was formerly owned by Samuel Maloney who gave him away several days ago and his new owner was just leading him home when the dog broke away and run. As soon as the news of the accident reached him Mr. Maloney requested Officer Dougherty to shoot the dog, and in company with Officer Gordan he rode up to the house and did as requested.

The following taken from one of our exchanges will be of interest to our readers: Friday, the 17th of May, 1605, a vessel from England, named the Archangel, in command of an English naval officer, discovered land bearing N. N. east, the wind blowing a gale and the sea running very high. It was six o'clock, evening. She stood off till two o'clock in the morning of Saturday, and then in again at eight o'clock, A. M., when it appeared as a highland of the main, but turned out to be an island of some six miles in circuit. At two the ship's company landed and found it woody, grown with fir, birch, oak and beech, and its shores fringed with strawberries, gooseberries, wild peas, and wild rosebushes—water leaping down the rocky cliffs, and wild fowls breeding and in abundance on the shores and rocks. Relics of fire were also seen, fish-bones, bones of beasts, and very large egg-shells,—bigger than goose eggs. This was Monhegan Island, and the only act of religious bearing transacted, was the erection of a cross, as a symbol of christian possession, and bearing the arms of England engraven in lead.

On the 7th of August, 1607, three vessels—the Gift of God and her tender, the Mary and John, of London,—cast anchor in the roadstead of Monhegan Island, Capt. Geo. Popham commanding, who was a God-fearing man. The company of these ships numbered one hundred and twenty men. They had with them a minister of the English Episcopal Church. The little fleet lay at anchor till Sunday, the 8th day of August. Nearly the whole company made up the congregation, went ashore, and under the cross set up there two years before, held Divine services. We may picture the scene. It seems to have been a day of joyous dawning. It was a government expedition. Noblemen commanded. Naval routine and discipline enforced exact obedience to nautical usage. The sunrise gun saluted the King of day as he rose from the deep and shed the glowing light of a fresh and fair countenance upon the cliff-tops and shores, and ships dressed in the gorgeous drapery of St. Georges cross. The shrill piping of boatswains and mates echoed from shore to shore, and among the oak and beech groves, calling the crews to man the boats, and all hands to worship God. All is ready. The officers in command, in full uniform; the musketeers with their matchlocks; the brawny English tars in naval costume, and the colonists in holiday attire, to the number of near one hundred and twenty, embark from the several vessels and land. They march to the place of the cross. The English Jack leads the way. At the foot of that cross, all gathered in a solid square, of which it and the flag of England are centers. The sultry sky is the canopy, and the tall green trees of a virgin soil the walls. Richard Seymore, in cassock, with the word of God in hand, kneels beneath its folds and for the first time on the shores of New England, in the English tongue, is heard: "Almighty and most merciful Father, we have sinned and strayed from thy ways like lost sheep. O Lord open thou our lips!" The hill-tops and groves of Monhegan then, for the first time, break forth and repeat his praise. Psalms of thanksgiving break from the congregation. The drum and cornet take up the sacred refrain, and from on shipboard and shore, and far over the deep blue sea, the praise of the living God is wafted to the wilds of Maine; from the highlands and heights of Pemaquid. Mr. Seymore delivers a sermon. The benediction is given. God is honored, and Monhegan Island, earliest of all the soil of New England, is consecrated and becomes the scene of the God-honoring service, in the initial acts of English life and civilization, in establishing English homes in the wilds of New England.

The sequel is a house of God for prayer and praise, on the spot, so consecrated in 1607—two hundred and seventy-three years ago—by the fathers and founders of the English race and homes, in the New World. May it stand forever, to repeat to generations yet unborn, the sacred civilizing and saving acts of its beginnings, and may the sequel thereof honor the Episcopal service which has achieved the success, as it, in its day and generation and pioneer zeal, honors God.

WHAT EX-GOVERNOR MORRILL SAYS.

Messrs. G. A. Phillips & Co., Waterville, Me. Gentlemen—The Kohler Furnace you put into my house last fall has been tested through the winter, and has given the most perfect satisfaction; its working has fully sustained the high character you claimed for it. It is economical, of coal for the heat it produces, suffers no escape of gas into the house, gives an even and pleasant temperature and can be managed by a woman as easily as the ordinary cooking range. I commend this furnace as a valuable acquisition worthy of patronage.
Very truly,
ANSON P. MORRILL.

HARD TIMES.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood, gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. Its cures are permanent. Try a bottle. Sold by all druggists. Dr. David Kennedy, Proprietor, Rondout, N. Y. d&w2w aug6

"ITS NO USE," HE SAID.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain: he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Y., I'll stop in Dr. Kennedy's office, and tell him of this."—Exchange. d&w2w aug6

MOTHER'S WAY.

Oft within our little cottage
As the shadows gently fall,
While the sunlight touches softly
One sweet face upon the wall,
Do we gather close together,
And in hushed and tender tone,
Ask each other's full forgiveness
For the wrong that each has done
Should you wonder why this custom
At the ending of the day,
Eye and voice would quickly answer,
"It was once our mother's way!"

If our home be bright and cheery,
If it hold a welcome true,
Opening wide its doors of greeting
To the many, not the few,
If we share our father's bounty
With the needy day by day,
'Tis because our hearts remember
This was ever mother's way

Sometimes, when our hands grow weary
Or our tasks seem very long,
When our burdens look too heavy
And we deem the right all wrong,
Then we gain a new, fresh courage,
As we rise to proudly say
"Let us do our duty bravely,
This was our dear mother's way"

Thus we keep her memory precious,
While we never cease to pray
That at last, the lengthening shadows
Mark the evening of our day,
They may find us waiting calmly,
To go home our mother's way!

HURRAH FOR GARFIELD

TUNE—Hold the Fort

Ho! your ballots, we are coming,
Nation of the free,
With the ticket that is booming,
Now from sea to sea

Now the flashing of the lightning
Sweeps from wire to wire
All the nation's darkness bright'ning,
Stirring all to fire

Let no cry of "fraud" affright us,
With the goal in sight,
Victory's crown shall ever delight us,
Crown at last—The Right.

Hold the fort our fathers won us,
Hold to liberty,
Hold the glory they begun us,
Hold our nominee

Chorus—Hold the fort for we are coming,
At the people's will,
All the nation's high hopes burning,
From each beacon hill

GREEN CORN AND HOW TO COOK IT

HOT CORN. The colored cooks of the South believe that green corn is much more wholesome and nutritious when cooked with the husks on, it is certainly much sweeter than when entirely stripped of its covering. Select full ears but see that the grains are tender and full of milk, strip off the outer husks and remove all the silk, put the corn into a pot of boiling water and boil it fast until tender, about twenty minutes, then drain the ears and serve them in a covered dish or folded in a napkin. Before eating, each ear should be buttered and seasoned with pepper and salt. When hot corn is not served on the cob the grains should be seasoned with salt and pepper, mixed with butter, and heated before they are put on the table.

MOCK OYSTERS. Grate enough young green corn to fill a pint measure, add to it two tablespoonsful of butter, the yolks of four eggs beaten smooth, and enough of flour to make it a stiff batter, season the batter with salt and pepper, and drop it by the tablespoonful into smoking hot fat, as soon as the mock oysters thus formed are light brown, take them out of the fat with a skimmer and lay them on brown paper for a moment to free them from grease, serve them on a napkin.

SUCCOTASH. Cut the grain from ten full grown tender ears of corn, mix them with one quart of shelled lima beans, boil them until tender in plenty of well-salted boiling water and then drain them in a collander, meantime beat two eggs smooth, put them into a saucepan with the succotash and two tablespoonsful of butter, season it to taste with salt and pepper, and heat it thoroughly, serve it in a covered dish. A cup of sweet cream is sometimes used instead of the eggs and butter, or a small piece of salt pork or bacon is boiled in the succotash

CORN AND CHICKEN. Several delicious dishes can be made by combining corn with other ingredients in the form of stews or ragouts. An exceedingly nice dish of corn and chicken may be made as follows. Prepare a chicken as for a fricassee, by carefully removing the feathers and entrails and cutting it into joints, try it light brown in a little butter, add a quart of milk and the grains cut from a dozen ears of corn, season the stew with salt and pepper, and cook it slowly for half an hour. serve it hot with small pieces of toast or bread fried in hot fat

GREEN CORN RAGOUT. Cut a pound of fresh pork in pieces an inch square, fry it brown in the bottom of a saucepan, add to it six large ripe tomatoes peeled and sliced, and the grains cut from six ears of corn, cover these ingredients with boiling water, season the ragout highly with salt, pepper and sweet red pepper and cook it slowly for half an hour, serve it hot with toast or fried bread.

There is hardly an American farm or homestead where this delicious vegetable is not abundant and it can be made as enjoyable a dish as it is wholesome, abundant and cheap. We advise our farmers' wives not to confine themselves to boiled corn, but to try these combinations for the purpose of varying their list of summer dishes

USEFUL RECIPES

COFFEE CAKE.—This is one of the best of plain cakes and is very easily made. Take one cup of strong coffee infusion, one cup molasses, one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one egg, and one teaspoonful saleratus. Add spice and raisins to suit the taste, and enough flour to make a reasonably thick batter. Bake rather slowly in tin pans lined with buttered paper.

FRIED CUCUMBERS.—Pare, cut into lengthwise slices not more than a quarter of an inch thick, and lay half an hour in ice water. Wipe each piece dry, sprinkle with pepper and salt, and dredge with flour. Fry to a light brown in butter. Lay on white paper and serve hot.

POTATO FRITTERS.—Boil three large potatoes and rub them through a colander, then add to them four well beaten eggs, one-teaspoonful of rich cream, a little lemon juice, a little nutmeg, and some salt. Beat all very light, then drop from a spoon into hot lard and fry the same as doughnuts, and serve hot

MOCK BISQUE SOUP.—Stew a can of tomatoes and strain. Add a pinch of soda to remove acidity. In another saucepan boil three pints of milk thickened with a tablespoonful of corn starch previously mixed with a little cold milk. Add a lump of butter size of an egg; salt and pepper to taste. Mix with tomatoes, let all come to a boil and serve.

SPICED CABBAGE.—Cut a head of cabbage into small slices, put it into a two or three quart saucepan, with a tablespoonful of butter, same of sugar, a gill of vinegar, half a dozen white cloves, a teaspoonful of salt, a salt spoonful of pepper, and gently simmer all together until the cabbage is tender.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

Dr. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

SKILLFUL SURGERY!

Removal of Urinary Calculi by the Knife.

A LUCKY MAN.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call stricture of the Urethra, with out benefit. He finally consulted Dr David Kennedy, of Rondout, N Y, who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi, or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific "Favorite Remedy" to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all Kidney and Bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitution of woman. Try it. Your druggist has it and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man who has put this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. d&wlm aug6
